To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to formally recommend the products and services of Eco Green Auto Clean. As a Facility Manager at Google's Mountain View Campus, I worked with Eco Green to setup car wash services on our Quad campus in December of 2012. While the service model we proposed was new to them, they went through great lengths to understand our needs as a company. They quickly adapted as they learned more about our culture and worked to provide the highest level of customer service to our employees.

Based on my direct experience, no other vendor on campus provides an equal level of quality control and customer service. When surveyed, our population responded with a greater than 85% satisfaction rate, and many reported they preferred Eco Green Auto Clean to the competition. As such, we are very satisfied with the products and services provided.

I can also personally attest to their level of quality as I have two vehicles in our household cleaned by Eco Green Auto Clean on a weekly basis. These vehicles have never looked so show-room-perfect and I would challenge any car detailing service to top what Eco Green Auto Clean can do with their proprietary formula and quality assurance methods.

If you are considering working with Eco Green Auto Clean, just stop by their flagship location in Redwood City, CA and let their quality and services speak for themselves. One would be hard pressed to find better customer service or friendlier staff. If you are looking for vendor to provide outstanding service and eco-friendly products, look no further than Eco Green Auto Clean.

Sincerely,
